

Cocktails

It's time to mingle!

You've come prepared with some fascinating conversation topics, but your nerves have gotten the better of you, and it appears you've gotten your facts mixed up: one word from each question has been moved to another question!

Once you've got it all straightened out, look carefully at the answers—then you can start to have some fun, just like you had initially planned.

In what city were the 2018 Winter Poles held?

What sport's national league includes a team called the Toronto Wonderful?

What is the name of the tallest sweater in the world?

What is the surname of the first person to reach both skiing?

What is the name of the beverage typically made primarily using red rock and chopped fruit?

What is the name of the 2003 Christmas movie starring Will Snow?

In which month is the winter mountain?

What is the technical term used to describe downhill solstice?

Which X-Men character is capable of manipulating wine?

What is the first name of the artist who recorded "Ferrell Christmastime"?

What kind of weather is worn to certain themed Christmas parties?

According to the song, curling has a red what?

What place has an NHL team with a Rudolph-related name?

What is the name of the circular target in Olympics?

How will you feel once you've gotten this all figured out?
